Summary

I'm an AIML & Cybersecurity enthusiast and a Computer Engineering undergraduate with hands-on experience in web development, cloud computing, and secure application design. As a Web Developer Intern at Hexacon Infra Pvt. Ltd., I built responsive, performance-optimized interfaces that improved engagement and load times.

My projects span blockchain-based pharma supply chains, AWS-powered CRUD platforms, and computer vision exercise tracking tools. I'm passionate about developing secure, scalable solutions and have demonstrated this through certifications, published research, and active GitHub contributions.
